

Association of Universities of the East of England

The Association of Universities in the East of England (AUEE)

The Association of Universities in the East of England's mission is to secure synergy between the partners, thus extending and supporting the contribution made by Higher Education Institutions within the East of England. The Association (AUEE) will influence and shape the collective economic, social and sustainable regional development agenda, it will advocate and endorse education, learning, research and knowledge transfer in the East of England and it will represent and engage the shared interests of members to the East of England Development Agency. Through this involvement, AUEE will ensure that this collective contribution is recognised and acknowledged both within the region and nationally by key agencies and policy influencers.
